Assets as resources

You can add any of your Pebble+ assets as a resource on the Resource Page. You might choose to do this because you want to give students access to some example assets before they create their own, or because you want them to copy an asset you have created so that they can use it as a basis for their own work.

To add an asset, click on the My Assets tab and select the item that you want to add to the resource panel. You will then be asked to select from the following settings:

You can use the existing asset name for the resource or give the asset an alternative title and description just for the resource page.

You can choose to allow users to simply View the resource (Use is related to templates and workbooks) or to make a Copy of the resource. If they select copy they will receive the resource in their Asset Store and have full editing permissions over the copy.

The final Copy and Submit option allows users to not only copy the resource but automatically submit their copy to the workspace. This means that their asset is immediately available for the tutor to view as they develop their work. If there is more than one assignment on the workspace you can select which assignment you want the asset to be auto-submitted to.

On this Workspace use:
- Always keep up to date with the latest revision (will reflect any changes made to the original resource)
- The current version of this resource only (13th Aug 2013 14:10)

This setting allows you to either make the resource reflect the latest version of the asset (as the asset is updated the resource will also be updated) or make it a fixed version that is not impacted by further changes to the asset. It is important to understand that with either option, once the resource is copied by a user, the copy is a fixed version and is not impacted by further changes to the original asset.

IF the workspace is in a Region where permission has been given for Managers to make their resources available to others within the region (under Region Management > Settings), the above option will appear when you add a resource to a workspace. You can then choose to make any of the resources you add available to other managers within the region. If you are a Manager at the Organisation level, you will also be given the option to make the resource available to all workspace managers within the organisation. Other managers will find these resources under Other ATLAS resources and will be able to add them to workspaces they manage.

The final option in this section allows you to limit the version of the resource to the current version of the asset so that any further changes to the asset will not be reflected in the resource that is available to others.

By clicking on Resource Manager in the top left corner of your ATLAS dashboard you can view all of the resources you have added to ATLAS and you can see a list of the workspaces on which these have been used, either by you or by others.
