Early and Mid-Career Researcher Network (EMCRN)

About us

We promote a collegial and supportive culture across the University in all research areas by:

- Promoting networking throughout the ECU research community
- Promoting educational events to increase skills of all researchers
- Providing a communication channel for research-active staff to voice their ideas and opinions to the University Executive

How we support you

The Early and Mid-Career Researcher Network is open to all research active staff on an informal basis. All research active staff are welcome to join our events and discussions.

- Join the network (Microsoft Teams team)
- Attend coffee and connect morning (online via Teams)
- Contact your School representative with any queries
